

Business Tax is Discussed by Council

Unworthiness of a rumor that an increase in the town's business tax was substantiated by Coleman council at its meeting March 29. The matter was brought to the attention of council by a local merchant who was assured that the rumor was unfounded.

A second Coleman businessman was present and informed council that he was of the opinion that he was being overtaxed and that assessing a business tax was illegal. Referring to the Town and Village Act, council showed the party that the tax was legal and that the Act also provided methods for collection in the event of non-payment of taxes. The town levy their business tax on a square foot basis.

Garth Harker, engineer for Tollestrup Construction, who are doing sewerage and water lines work for Coleman, was present and discussed frost removal charges with council. After some discussion a satisfactory agreement was reached and council approved payment of $400 for this work.

The matter of the town providing its own electrical power for the operation of the town's pump-house to be built in an area serviced by East Kootenay Power, is to be further discussed. The town of Coleman owns its own electrical company and feel that they can provide the power to the pump house cheaper than East Kootenay Power can provide power.

A request for funds in support of Camp Impecca, was tabled for discussion at a future meeting.

Urban Renewal Is Discussed

Urban renewal of Coleman's main business section was discussed at a meeting held in the Central School on March 29th, attended by approximately 25 persons, of whom about one-quarter were businessmen.

Dave Gulbrau, manager of the Leithbridge Branch of Central Mortgage and Housing, was present and provided data and information regarding provincial and federal grants and loans available should such a move be effected by the Town of Coleman.

Director of the Old Man Regional River Planning Commission and Planning Association Lenard Smith both of Leithbridge, were present and spoke on the urban renewal plan which would see the business section relocated north of the present commercial area or at an entirely new location.

A committee of businessmen is to be formed to work with council and further discuss the feasibility of such a move by the town.

Chairman of the meeting was Mayor John Holyk and minutes were recorded by Town Secretary Glen Sweet.

Board of Directors

FAMILY SERVICE BUREAU OF CROWS NEST PASS AND PINCHER CREEK

Joseph L. Gibos, of Coleman, is one of the long-time residents of the area, claiming Blairmore as his birthplace.

He is married, and has five children. He served with the ICAF in World War Two for three years; has travelled extensively throughout all Western Provinces, Northwest Territories and Yukon; engaged in oil exploration drilling with his own drilling firm. Presently he is president of this drilling firm and is also president and director of North Fork Timber Co. Ltd.

His reasons for being with the Family Service Bureau are twofold. "Initially, I believe the function of the Bureau is highly commendable. The Bureau, as we all know, offers professional assistance and relief to people who are afflicted, suffering, troubled and in need. Results of the application of this function to date in our area have been highly successful and most gratifying.

"Secondly, I am particularly pleased with the interdenominational structure of the Bureau. I consider this a great step forward toward unity and in keeping in line with world wide renewal. I believe that every responsible man should be interested in promoting work for a better world."

Neal M. Firman is a Social Worker with the Department of Public Welfare, where he has served for over five years.

For four and a half years he was in Northern Alberta, prior to moving to Blairmore in June of 1963. He is one of the two bachelors on the board. His reason for working with the board is:

"I feel there is a real need for work with the Family Service Bureau which most people do not realize. Working with my department makes one more aware of this need and it is this need which makes me happy to be of service as a member of the Board of Directors of the Family Service Bureau."

Owen's Convert To Complete Self Service

Owen's Food Market has been undergoing a complete renovation during the past few days and the bright new market has been completely redecorated and all new equipment installed.

Customers will enjoy a complete self service system in both the meats and groceries departments. All new shelving has been installed as well as all new fridge units that will display prepackaged meats and other foods.

New equipment was provided by Associated Grocers and installations were made by Modern Electric and Cells' Building Supplies.

An official opening is being planned for after Easter holidays.

Remember when income tax was paid only by people who could afford it?

March Employment Reasonably Good

During a recent interview with Mr. Terry Robertson, manager of the National Employment Service in Blairmore, we were pleased to learn employment conditions have remained reasonably buoyant during the month of March.

However, the NES officer was quick to point out that we are on the verge of spring break-up and it is expected that the lumbering industry will be laying off workers very soon. Every effort should be made to re-employ these men in other industry on a casual basis or on a full-time basis until they are able to return to their regular employment.

Operating coal mines in the Pass are working at full capacity and a shortage of suitable workers is very evident in this industry.

Young men to learn the operation of "continuous miners" and qualified miners are in immediate demand.

Mr. Robertson stated the federal government's new Manpower Mobility Program, which is an existing method of assisting an unemployed worker and his family to move from a place of low employment to a job in another area, has created no interest in the area. Private enterprise should be alert to the possible advantages obtainable through this new program.

The demand for female workers has been slow, although there are a number of fully experienced applicants in this group seeking part time or full time employment.

An analysis of the 260 unemployed male applicants currently registered with the NES indicate approximately 100 were in the older age groups seeking light or temporary work. An additional 125 applicants were on temporary leave from logging and construction operations in the area. The remaining 35 applicants represent those actually unemployed and seeking employment of a permanent nature.

Fire Chief Zak Attends Convention

Fire Chief Henry Zak of the Coleman Volunteer Fire Brigade, attended the recent three-day Fire Chiefs' convention held in Red Deer.

Chief Zak reports that over 140 delegates from all Alberta were in attendance at the event that featured many informative lectures and displays of new fire fighting equipment and techniques.

A.O.T.S. Sponsor Panel Discussion

The monthly supper meeting of the A.O.T.S. Clubs of Blairmore and Coleman, was held in the St. Paul's Church hall, Coleman, on Monday evening, March 28.

After the supper a short devotional period and singing was held under the supervision of Mr. A. A. Hereford.

Mr. Al Longworth of Blairmore, then introduced a panel to discuss family life and the place of the family in the community today. Members of the panel were:

Sister Leo Agnes, Blairmore; Rev. C. Babcock, Anglican rector; Blairmore and Coleman, Rev. H. Coward, Blairmore United Church; Cpl. Garnet Walker, RCMP Police; and Mr. Stan Smythe, Welfare Officer of the Provincial Government at Blairmore.

Many aspects of family life and the problems facing families today were dealt with, including alcoholism, juvenile delinquency, parental cruelty and abandonment of children and the responsibility of parents in the sexual instruction of their children.

Mixed marriages were discussed as well as the responsibility of the community at large to report to the proper authorities the neglect by parents of children unable to look after themselves.

All present expressed great appreciation of the work went into the preparation of the discussion.

National Health Week

National Health Week provides each one of us with a reminder that health is our most precious asset, said the Hon. Dr. J. D. Ross, Alberta Minister of Health, in a prepared statement today.

While the individual bears the ultimate responsibility for his own health and that of his family, a steadily increasing range of health services is available to the people of Alberta.

Hospitals, nursing homes, local health units and other facilities are being enlarged and improved to meet the needs of the growing population and to bring the benefits of the latest advances in the treatment of disease and the promotion of health to all parts of the province.

These services would not be possible, however, without highly trained staff. The increasing demand for health services has opened a large number of careers in this field—many of these opportunities did not even exist 10 or 20 years ago. In addition the more established fields of nursing, medicine and dentistry continue to be handicapped by a shortage of well trained people.

It is my hope that those of you who are considering a career—or thinking of changing your present position—will take the opportunities afforded by the National Health Week to investigate some of the possibilities for training and a career in one of the many fields of health.

Red Cross Drive Successful

The recent Red Cross campaign conducted by the C.W. L. of Coleman is now completed and termed "most successful" by the Campaign Manager, Mrs. E. Aiello.

A total of $556.60 was collected from Coleman and district, surpassing the $475.00 quota set by the Red Cross.

A sincere vote of thanks is extended to all the residents who made the drive so successful, and to the many canvassers who gave so freely of their time and efforts.

Suzuki Bikes Come To Coleman

Mr. Yeliga presently has three of the world's largest seller of two cycle motor bikes in stock. The three bikes that are on display are the 500C, the 800C, which are sports models, and the 800C trail bike. Ten different models of the Suzuki are available to suit all tastes and can be delivered immediately.

Mr. Yeliga, who operates the garage, will keep a complete line of parts on hand and service on the bikes will be offered seven days a week.

Crows Nest Forestry Road Closures Imminent

It may be necessary to close roads within the Crows Nest Forest to prevent damage during the spring break-up.

These closures may be applied at any moment.

In order to prevent unnecessary hardship, the travelling public should contact the Forestry Office at Blairmore prior to their use of any Forestry road. Emergency travel to projects or work areas within the Crows Nest Forest by commercial users requires a Road Use Permit for every vehicle used on closed Forestry roads. These permits may be obtained at Forest Headquarters, Blairmore, or at any Ranger District Headquarters. Road Use Permits are free. You are respectfully reminded that it is an offence to operate a vehicle on a closed road without a permit. Road closures will be lifted at the earliest possible time and when danger of excessive damage has been eliminated.

Klondike Night May 14th

"Klondike Night", a festive occasion, is being planned by the Coleman Elks Lodge as an entertaining event for all in the Pass area.

The night is to be held on May 14th in the Elks hall and persons planning to attend the event are asked to try to wear Klondike era clothing to make the party more enjoyable.

Many local Crows Nest Pass men are beginning to sprout beards and reports indicate that this is not due to the present warm spring weather, but to the beard grower's intention of entering a beard contest. Prizes for this contest are to be given for various types of beards and moustaches as well as for the most colorful costumes.

The Elks are setting up carnival booths in the basement of the Elks hall where an old time type of carnival is to be held, including a stand for hamburgers.

An evening of dancing is to be held on the main floor of the hall with the music for this event to be provided by Harry Sella and his three sons. Advance tickets may be obtained at $1 per person from Zak's, Holyk's, Owen's, Kropinak's and the Satellite Cafe.

K. C.'s Hear Father Danco

Kingfish of Columbus Council in the Crows Nest Pass participated in the initiations held at Leithbridge on Sunday, April 3rd, at which time about 12 candidates were brought into the Council.

The last meeting was addressed by Father Danco, S.J., of New Westminster, who left Czechoslovakia in 1947. Father Danco's subject was the religious, political and economic condition of the peoples of the Iron Curtain countries, and was most interesting to all in attendance.

Each year the Canadian Red Cross Enquiry Bureau processes about 6,000 enquiries from persons in some 35 countries.

Centennial Report

1867-1967

CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

REPORT No. 1—

When I took over the job of organizing Canada's biggest celebration in history, I ran into a number of pessimists, even a few cynics.

This is the sort of line they gave me: "Canadians aren't noisy patriots. You'll have a tough job stirring up much flag waving for 1967."

Well, some of their facts were correct but the spirit in which those few pessimists presented their views to me was not what I accept as Canadian. I have travelled long and far enough in this country to know that Canadians really have strong positive feelings about their country.

I could agree with some of the statements by my pessimistic friends if they were in a different context. Canadians are not given to wild demonstrations of patriotism in their own country. Such things can embarrass us. I believe our kind of nationalism is more thoughtful than emotional and that is why I believe so fervently that our Centennial will be a successful and meaningful event in our history.

Yes, we may have difficulty at times in deciding what we are, what we are for and what we are against in the world. But we know what home is and though we may be embarrassed to express it, we love our land. Perhaps I discovered this through travel abroad, when I met Canadians far from home. When we are world travelling we are more apt to open up and reveal to other people our inner thoughts about our country. One particular instance comes to my mind. I was breakfasting at a small hotel in London, England, a few years ago and became engaged in conversation with a young man across the table from me. He was a Canadian working at an airline office in London. With no prodding from me he poured out all his thoughts about home and about Canada.

"I'm not a nationalist," he said. "In fact I'm against nationalism. It causes a lot of trouble in the world. That's why I like my country. We're not aggressive nationalists. But really, mister," he said "it's hard to describe my feelings about my country."

He thought his feeling for his homeland was not just the house he was born in back in Ontario, nor was it necessarily his home town. It was the lake country where he used to go on canoe trips in the summer, the big rushing rivers and the roads that go forever.

"I always felt if I couldn't find a job in Canada I could always go to the north country and trap and hunt — something one couldn't do over here — and at least make a living," he said. He admitted it was just a "fancy of the mind" — probably he'd starve — but Canada always gave him a feeling of security, he said. "I always felt that the Rockies or the Gaspé wilderness were mine, even though I didn't go there every week-end. (I only saw the Rockies once)."

The young man went on, exposing his mind and being very sentimental and patriotic. I thought to myself he probably would be far too inhibited and embarrassed to talk like that back home.

From now to 1967 Canadians, as individuals and in groups, large and small, are finding ways to express their true feelings about Canada. I'll tell you more about these in future reports.

EASTER EGGS

When your children search for colored eggs this Easter, they'll be renewing a custom far older than Christianity.

Eggs represent the new life that returns to earth every spring — around the time of Easter. The custom of exchanging eggs as part of the celebration began in ancient times. The ancient Persians often dyed eggs in the colors of spring and gave them to their friends as gifts. Some early peoples believed that the earth had hatched from a giant egg.

World Book Encyclopedia says the early Christians of Asia and other eastern lands exchanged eggs at Easter. They colored the eggs red.

Elaborate decoration became the rule in some eastern European lands. The Ukrainians are famous for their beautifully decorated Easter eggs. Each village makes its own design — fir trees, horses, priests' robes, flowers, bell towers, churches, chapels, etc. Residents of Czechoslovakia, Poland, Lithuania and other lands also are known for their highly decorated Easter eggs.

In England, friends often exchanged eggs at Easter, although nowadays these usually are chocolate eggs. The Irish break the long Lenten fast by eating eggs at dawn on Easter.

Germans color eggs green on "Green Thursday" — the Thursday before Easter — and carry the eggs all day for good luck. On Easter Monday the young people have an egg rolling contest.

In Italy, a priest blesses the eggs on Easter. The eggs occupy the centre of the breakfast table, with other dishes arranged around them.

In The Netherlands, children go from door to door during Holy Week collecting Easter eggs.

Young and old alike play games involving eggs on Easter Monday.

In Greece, World Book notes, people tap red eggs together as a greeting when they meet on Easter. The first person says "Christ is risen" and the second replies "He is truly risen".

In Bulgaria, on Easter Saturday, people exchange eggs and baked almond cakes. In Hungary boys sprinkle girls with water on Easter Monday and receive Easter eggs in reward.

Customs vary from land to land but colored eggs have been associated with spring time since the dawn of history.

Regional Recreation Board Workshop

On April 23, 1966, the first Regional Recreation Board Workshop will be held in Lethbridge in order that recreation problems of all types may be discussed by representatives from each of the communities in Southern Alberta.

Communities which do not have Recreation Boards have been contacted through the mayors, county counsellors and municipal district counsellors so that all may be provided a forum in which to discuss recreation problems in order to resolve them.

It is the intention of this one-day workshop to discuss recreation problems in the areas of arts and crafts, music, drama, athletics, outdoor education and libraries. In addition, problems of finance, construction planning and general administration of recreation programs will be aired.

One of the main problems to be discussed will be that of leadership development in each of the major areas of recreative endeavor. The lack of recreation program leadership is a problem in most communities.

A broken home is a terrible tragedy, which often might have been prevented, through a little more knowledge, a little more understanding. Some of this knowledge, and understanding is freely available to you in a pamphlet entitled 'Helping Families in Trouble', distributed by the Canadian Mental Health Association, 619, Revillon Building, Edmonton.

Letters to the Editor

Legislative Building,
Edmonton, Alberta.

The Chairman,
Centennial Committee.

Dear Sir:

We are receiving many requests from Ottawa and from individuals all over Canada, for information concerning the dates on which various Centennial projects are to be completed and dedicated or "officially opened". In an effort to comply with these requests, we are attempting to develop a Calendar of Coming Events which would include any ceremonies or events to take place in 1966 or 1967. If possible, we would like very much to publish the first volume of this Calendar in June of this year, with revised issues to be published late in 1966, and again in the Spring of 1967.

If you have any idea at all of the date upon which the dedication ceremony for your Centennial project will take place, or the official opening, or any other similar event relating to Centennial in your community, we would greatly appreciate it if you would forward these dates and a brief description of the event and/or project as soon as possible to:

Mrs. Jean Knott,
Centennial Publicity Officer,
245 Highways Building,
Edmonton, Alberta.

This information will also assist your Government and the Centennial Committee in planning to have official representation at the event. Naturally, all our M.L.A.'s, Cabinet Ministers and Centennial officials will be very much in demand for these events between now and the end of 1967, and it is only fair that we give them as much notice as possible as to expected dates.

Your co-operation and assistance in this matter will be greatly appreciated.

Centennially yours,
J. R. D. FINDLAY,
Centennial Co-ordinator.

"Born in the purple", meaning royal birth, is derived from the fact that the room in the Roman imperial palace where the emperor was crowned, was lined with purple imperial porphyry.

The printed word is more reliable than the spoken word and it cannot be refuted because it is easily available for re-checking. More accurate information is obtained by reading than listening.

An error was made in Zak's Meats & Groceries ad in our last issue. Ajax Detergent, King size, was advertised at $1.15. This should have been $1.55.

"OUR ALBERTA HERITAGE"

RED CROSS SOCIETY

Every day the newspapers are full of incidents of drama, tragedy and suspense. Many of these dramas revolve around the theme of saving human life. Many times these stories have happy endings. They often happen because of the Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service.

This service is just one of the many offered by this enterprising society. There's the Junior Red Cross — a vital force for healthy living and good citizenship that reaches school children. The Canadian Red Cross Society in Alberta operates a disaster service, a water safety service and a reunion and enquiry service. Members of this society lead the way in providing surgical dressings, layettes, clothing and bedding to those in need.

We're proud to salute the Canadian Red Cross Society and give grateful thanks for this organization that contributes so much to OUR ALBERTA.

If you are an employer, this is something you should know. — It can be good business to hire mentally restored workers — Most recovered mental patients function better than before, and often much better than average. They've been probed and analyzed and tested by professionals — they're ready, willing and eager to be good workers. A free pamphlet from the Mental Health Association tells you more about it. — Write today, ask for "So You're Going To Hire The Mentally Restored" from CMHA, 619, Revillon Building, Edmonton.
